

IPCA

Independent Police Conduct Authority
Whaia te pono, kia puawai ko te tika

Independence

trustworthiness

accountability

Civilian oversight in an international context

The Hon. Justice Goddard, Chair
Independent Police Conduct Authority

Presentation to Cacole Conference
Ottawa, Ontario

10 June 2009

Progress since 2008

- Completed restructuring
- Doubled investigative staffing
- Established Complaints Management Team

Progress since 2008

- Completed restructuring
- Established Complaints Management Team
- Doubled investigative staffing
- Established Board
- Improved transparency

Progress since 2008

- Support across the political spectrum
- Greater media profile and understanding
- Increased funding

Progress since 2008

- Support across the political spectrum
- Greater media profile and understanding
- Increased funding
- Reduced criticism of perceived lack of independence

Checks and balances

“We see the upholding of fundamental human rights as the very purpose of policing.”

Chris Patten, Chair, Independent Commission on Policing for Northern Ireland.

Our Maori conceptual name

Whaia te pono, kia puawai ko te tika

Seek the truth, that justice may prevail